BABYLON CAPITAL
& BÖRSTJÄNARFOLKET

REPORTING PERIOD: AUGUST 2026

Published September 2026

Summer is drawing to a close and work to finalise the structure is in full swing. So far, the process has moved relatively quickly and largely gone smoothly.

The Swedish Companies Registration Office initially objected to the name Babylon Capital AB, as another company already had a similar name. The alternative name, Blue Babylon Capital AB, was approved quickly.

The bank's review has taken longer. Before Fredrik can fully act as CEO during the practical start-up phase, the bank must complete its assessment. The original timeframe was six weeks. Once that period had elapsed, it was extended to eight to ten weeks.

We are now in the eighth week and have just received approval from Nordea. Trading in the Arkad CTA programme can therefore begin soon, and Kaptena can finalise the share register.

SEK 16 million raised in the first share issue

16 M

The summer share issue provided the capital base needed to apply our trend-following models across a broad, diversified range of markets.

The summer share issue raised approximately SEK 16 million for Babylon Capital. This takes us above the equivalent of USD 1 million that we considered necessary to apply our trend-following models with good diversification across markets and strategies.

The start of trading may coincide with an interesting market environment. Macroeconomic news is coming thick and fast, with considerable uncertainty in several markets. We can never know when or where the next trend will emerge, but historically, turbulent periods have often created favourable conditions for our models.

Börstjänafolk will now invest part of its capital in Arkad through Babylon Capital. This also gives Börstjänafolk's shareholders exposure to the CTA programme.

Börstjänafolk rose 7.8% in August

When Börstjänafolk began its new journey with Henrik and Fredrik at the end of June, the share price was SEK 6.62. After falling to SEK 6.51 in July, it rose 7.8% in August to close the month at SEK 7.02.

The August gain was largely driven by the strong performance of Bittensor, which accounts for a substantial part of the portfolio and which we discussed during the webinar before the summer.

The portfolio still has substantial crypto exposure and remains sensitive to the sector's volatility. We plan to gradually reduce holdings in smaller cryptocurrencies and increase exposure to bitcoin and Arkad. To make this reallocation on better terms, altcoins first need to benefit from a broader bull market.

Opportunities for new investments

Once the remaining administration is completed and the full structure is in place, we will be able to accept new investments on an ongoing basis. The next investment opportunity is expected on 1 November 2026.

Existing investors will then have an opportunity to increase their holdings. If you have friends or acquaintances who may be interested, they are also very welcome to contact us.

As mentioned previously, we appreciate any help that can contribute to the company's continued growth. We are at the beginning of a long-term project and will need additional support in areas including business development, communications and investor relations.

If you are interested in Managed Futures and trend following and share our view of their long-term potential, please get in touch. Together, we can explore opportunities to contribute to and grow with the business.

New website and ongoing performance reporting

We are also developing a website with more information about the company and its investment approach. Performance for both Babylon Capital and Börstjänarfolket will be presented with statistics and charts, making it easy to follow developments.

First investor meeting on 9 September

On Wednesday 9 September at 21:00, we will hold our first joint investor meeting for Babylon Capital and Börstjänarfolket. Register here if you have not already done so.

We will review the latest developments, preparations for the start of trading and plans for the autumn. There will, of course, also be time for questions.
